design thinking

Every new design product is the answer to a balance between the left and the right side of the brain.

The left side thinks logical, we use it to solve problems. It's calculated and meticulous. If we want to create something, we will want it to last.

The right side is obsessed with beauty. It seeks and finds inspiration in everything. If we want to create something, we will want it to inspire.

Design

Every Quick-Step floor starts from an idea. Our designers get their inspiration by visiting fairs and fashion events all over the world in order to identify the trends.

But the designers can also be drawn to shipwreck wood. Design is not an exact science and inspiration can not be ordered à la carte.

Afterwards, it's up to the R&D team to make that dream come to life. They need to visualize the idea and make sure that both design and technology are in balance.

Uniclic system

Quick-Step is a manufacturer that has changed the outlook of the flooring market. The invention of the Uniclic system in 1997 is a prime example of that DNA.

That Uniclic system allows two planks to be installed on a floor without using any glue. That system raised the bar and ever since, Quick-Step has been ahead.

With 550 patents and pending applications, it's fair to say that our aspirations are still increasing, both in design as in technological advancements.

Understanding Engineered wood Flooring

CONSTRUCTION

1 Protective finish

7 layers of uv-cured water based lacquer or 2 layers of quality oil

2 Face layer

A carefully selected wood layer (2.5 or 3.2
mm) that can be sanded 2 – 3 times

3 Advanced core

The core, made of spruce or pine, absorbs stress and strain and ensures that the floor remains stable in all conditions

4 Balanced backing

The backing veneer is made from ecologically certified wood and helps to perfectly balance the boards

Circular economy

All the waste generated in a process should become food for another process. In the 1960's, Unilin used loam, a waste product from the flax industry, as a basic material for boards. Over the years, the company has been increasing its efforts to reduce the ecological footprint.

The use of a high-tech production process allows Unilin to give a second life to more than one million tons of wood every year – wood that would be otherwise be incinerated.

But it does not stop there. Preaching sustainability is easy and optimizing the production process is one thing. Together with the partners, Unilin wanted to make difference and take extended action. Funds were raised in order to achieve a specific goal. The company engaged itself to plant a new forest in Westouter, Belgium.

This initiative was extremely successful; a new forest with a total volume of 7.500 sqm was planted at the end of 2019. Planting the new forest is not intended to be a one-off sustainability initiative. The success inspired so many actors in the local community that there are already plans to repeat it.

THE CREDENTIALS OF OUR FLOORING

To provide you with maximum value, Quick-Step Parquet floors adhere to the most stringent quality and sustainability labels.

PEFC

An internationally recognized label that ensures that the wood we use in our flooring comes from sustainable managed forests.

THANK YOU!
